DUBBER SPRINGS.—THE NEW ENGLAND CAR Spring Co. have just received the following letter from Mr. Bird, of the highly respectable firm of Bird & Weld, of Trenton, New Jersey, which they are induced to publish, as it somewhat exposes the very transparent amidavit of Mr. Israel Tucker, Istely published by Mr. Day:

F. M. Ray, Esq., New York.—Dear Sir—My attention has lately been realted to the affidavit of Israel Tucker, Intely published by Mr. Day:

F. M. Ray, Esq., New York.—Dear Sir—My attention has lately been realted to the affidavit of Israel Tucker, Intely published in the Tenton papors, in which he awears that you made H. H. Day (through him) sundry large offers to compromise the law suits now pending between Mr. Day and Charles Goodyear. I must say that I think there is some mistake on the part of Mr. Tucker, for the reason that Mr. Day has several times requested me to use my influence with he urbber manufacturers to buy him out of the business, and I have as frequently tried to induce those parties to huy him out, but have always failed, not one of them beings willing to pay Mr. Day one cent to relinquish the business, and I have as a frequently tried to me for this purpose was just before the patent suit between him and Mr. Goodyear was expected to be tried in Boston. We made the beginness to a firm of the patents, and would a any compromise with Mr. Day, upon any terms whatever. It is for these reasons that I think Mr. Tacker was mistaken in his affabry it hat you had made him large offers to settly this matter, in order that you and your associates might have a monopoly of the business. In hast Yours terly,

THE CONGRESS PIRATED—CAUTION TO SHOE Bealers.—Learning that some unprincipled persons are offering Elastic Gore to manufacturers of my Patent Congress Boots, made by braifing or wearing India Rubber in such way as to cause a shir or contraction, or expansion of the fabric with the spring, this notice is given that any mode of covering and combining thorus materials with cords of India Rubber, if used in making Congress Boots, is a direct and positive violation of my patent; and wheever manufactures or sells the Congress Boots, thus made, will be prosecuted for damages. All who are authorized by me to use are required to stamp each pair with the words. Days Patent: "all others are infringements, and dealers are warned against the consequences if they choose to be concerned in pirating this patent.
